

December 2009

APIC Announces Foundation Scholarships for Students from Thailand to Study Project Management

Asia Pacific International College (APIC) has announced that four Foundation scholarships, valued up to AUD$12,500 each, will be awarded to students from Thailand to study Master or MBA degrees focused on Project and Program Management. The College may also offer limited scholarships to additional suitably qualified applicants.

Despite being a relatively new field, project and program management qualifications and expertise are in great demand worldwide. However, because of the limited number of places in higher education institutions, few students have the opportunity to pursue a career in this field. APIC believes in rewarding academic talent and inspiring the next generation of project and program managers.

The scholarships will be offered to students from Thailand interested in pursuing either Master of Business and Project Management or the MBA (Project and Program Management) degrees full time in Australia for commencement in April and September 2010. Applications close on Friday, 19 February 2010. Asia Pacific International College is an equal opportunity institution. APIC reserves the right not to proceed with the above scholarships on academic, financial or other grounds.

APIC is at the forefront of the field of project management and has developed unique and innovative courseware, diagnostic tools and systems that support management of projects and programs.

For more information on how to apply, visit <http://www.apicollege.edu.au/new/foundation-scholarship> or call +612 8920 9688, or email scholarships@apicollege.edu.au

Based in Sydney, Australia, Asia Pacific International College (APIC) is an Australian Postgraduate Higher Education Institution. APIC is a global provider of competency-based higher education, professional development and corporate training in business and management. APIC delivers educational programs globally, facilitated by its unique learning laboratory system. APIC's major objective is to promote borderless learning and professional development with an international student mix and an equally global delivery resource base. APIC has a special emphasis on project management. For additional information visit www.apicollege.edu.au